African and American Women's Association

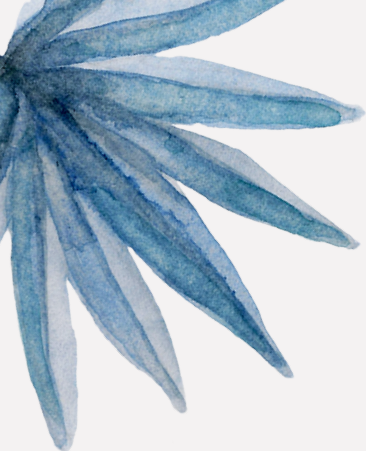

PLEASE JOIN US IN HONORING OF THE FOUNDERS AND MEMBERS OF THE ORGANIZATION

AAWA was founded in 1972, but fully established in 1974 by a group of pioneering African-American women who worked in the newly independent African countries as representatives of the United States under the aegis of the U.S. State Department. These women saw firsthand the needs of the women and children in the countries they served in. On returning to the US, they decided to be proactive and formed the African and American Women Association. The bonds of friendships they had established and their vast experiences formed a solid foundation on which to build.

More than 40 years later, AAWA is still building on the vision and mission set forth by the founders. Please consider joining us in paying homage to our founders and sharing as we give thanks to all members who have contributed to furthering the AAWA mission. Program details to be announced soon.
